“Very enthusiastic about the whole thing... really enjoyed the experience of playing in it.. the sound was great and it is a very exciting idea. It looks fantastic. Everything inside the structure was good – lighting, space to move, acoustics etc.”

“All the sound quality of a concert hall, outdoors on a portable stage, with a futuristic design. The mobile acoustic performance shell’s unique shape is designed to re-invent open-air concerts by re-creating a high fidelity sound environment. Soundforms will fill a void for a quality venue for outdoor performances... The low budget stage, with its sleek shape and great audio qualities, will bring Soundforms to the main capitals of the world, taking outdoor performances to a new level.”

“This innovative acoustic design could revolutionize outdoor music events and its iconic beauty make it a perfect fit with our unique venue at Somerset House”.

- Mark Hislop, Commercial Director of Somerset House

“The Soundforms acoustic performance shell took me quite by surprise! From an audience perspective I beheld a futuristic and magically illuminated stage..... which projected the music with perfect clarity. From a players perspective I enjoyed it’s acoustically comfortable performing environment and a clear sonic focus from which I could sense the quality of sound emanating from the stage as I played. I expect to see the shell become a regular sound and sight at music events in the near future.”
